Underwater Bomb Sinks

Huge Drydock at Bikini
BIKINI — A large floating drydock capsized and sank in Bikini lagoon from damage done by the underwater atomic bomb.

Many of the surviving target ships still remained so dangerously radioactive that no one dared board them.

The prolonged effects of the bomb-induced radioactivity were so great that Vice Adm. W. H. P. Blundy, commanding the atomic bomb tests, declared:

"This is a form of poison warfare. The big concrete drydock, which unexpectedly went down, had been damaged above water by the atomic air burst of July 1 and apparently was hurt underwater by the July 25 explosion.

Despite his comment about "poison warfare," the admiral said the atomic bombings of Hiroshima and Nagasaki had not been poison attacks.

Royal Air Force Pilot

Claims 626 MPH Record

TANGMERE, ENGLAND — A Royal Air Force pilot said he exceeded the official world airplane speed of 600 miles an hour, flying a jet-propelled Gloster Meteor 626 miles an hour for three minutes at 3,000 feet.

The pilot, Group Capt. Edward Donaldson, was testing the plane for an official assault on the British-held record, scheduled for later.

Huge Peace Tower Is

Proposed for Tokyo
TOKYO — Japanese women diet members proposed construction within three years of a 487-foot peace tower in Tokyo, surrounded by a great bell, a light and a figure representing the goddess of peace, and paid for by popular subscriptions. Their leader in the project is Kiyo Takefusa. She's from atom-bombed Hiroshima.

Hitches Ride, Objects to

Paying; Judge Fines Him
INDIANAPOLIS — A 22-year-old painter stood at the roadside in outer Indianapolis thumbing a ride. A police car came along, and he tried to hitch a ride.

"I'm going to Sunnyside," the painter said. "How about a lift?" The patrolmen didn't give the hitcher a ride, but told him he was going in the wrong direction.

A half hour later the same patrol car drove by the spot where the painter had been hitch-hiking, and he was still there. This time they picked him up—because he was drunk.

Hearing the case, Judge John Niblack fined him $1 and costs, declaring the painter's protest with "What are you complaining about—you got your ride, didn't you?"

Ship Service Controls

Ended, OPA Announces
WASHINGTON—Office of Price Administration announced that transportation and towing services within harbor limits by other than common carriers will be suspended from price control, effective immediately.

The agency announced also suspension of controls on rental of vessels and the furnishings of steam and fresh water to ships.
